2017 Connected Mathematics Users' Conference

The Center for Professional Development and Education Reform, in partnership with Wayne-Finger Lakes BOCES, is offering an opportunity for Connected Math (CMP) teachers, teacher leaders, math coaches, and administrators to come together to learn, share ideas, and gain new insights from fellow CMP teachers from the region. This one-and-a-half-day conference is designed to stimulate thought provoking and insightful discussions around instructional practices, assessment, mathematics content, and student learning for all CMP classrooms. This conference is designed for individuals who are currently using the Connected Mathematics curriculum.

During the conference, participants will choose from a variety of session topics being offered, including:

- Differentiated instruction in CMP classrooms
- Classroom management strategies
- Overview of mathematical strands in CMP
- Effective teaching practices
- Assessment in CMP
- Lesson Planning
- And much more!

This is an opportunity to network with other CMP users in our region, to share our successes and ideas for improvement, and to join together as we work to improve our implementation of the CMP curriculum.

Registration is now live through Wayne-Finger Lakes BOCES
